BRIEF DESCRIPTION

A day to explore the 1000 linga river of scared Kulen Mountain with safe and delicious local picnic lunch, typical Cambodian Sugar Palm village of Banteay Srei, and explore the Tropical Garden of thousand butterflies.

TOUR DESCRIPTION

Time of your choice 7:00am, or 7:30am Private pick up from your hotel location in Siem Reap by our professional tour guide and driver.

Morning, drive through the typical Khmer countryside in north direction to the Holy Kulen Mountain range where stones were sourced from to build the magnificent Angkor Temples.

With beautiful sceneries on the way up, our vehicle will bring us to the top of the mountain. Start with the site of the 1000 Lingas carved in the riverbed by successive kings of the Angkor period, a walk further will bring you to the site of a huge natural rock with on top a big reclining Buddha carved in the rock. We continue the walk to the waterfall, where you can join the locals and swim. More carvings in the riverbed can be discovered above the waterfall. This is a very popular place for Khmer people to come and enjoy their weekend with a picnic and pray for the best of luck as Buddhists, and this sacred place is very famous to Hindu visitors to practice religious activities in respect of their Hindu God-Shiva with beliefs of bringing all good deeds to their lives.

Enjoy the safe, delicious local picnic-style lunch in the hut near the waterfall or the restaurant. (Grilled chicken, Fish, Vegetable, and Rice, like local).

Back to Siem Reap, we stop for a typical village tour at Banteay Srei district to see the natural Palm sugar-making process, learn about the local living standard. Next, visit nearby netted tropical Butterfly garden with thousands of different types of free-flying butterflies, and the raising process in one place.

Return transfer to hotel or airport drop off.
